

MAN DIES AFTER SMASH ON MANGOPLAH ROAD

A man died in the Wagga Base Hospital yesterday morning from injuries he received when a truck overturned on the Mangoplah road last week.

He was James Joseph Hanrahan, 35, of Jarick Avenue, Wagga.

HANRAHAN was one of five men in the truck when it hit a culvert post and overturned in the late afternoon.

He was admitted to hospital with a fractured pelvis and internal injuries.

Another occupant, William Lowe, 54, of Docker Street, Wagga, driver of the utility, suffered a fractured neck.

The truck skidded on the greasy road surface as Lowe was making room for an oncoming
