

Wreck of the Sarah Nicoll.

The captain of the Ross and Thistle reports picking up on the beach near the Bellinger River Heads, the figure-head and a board with the name of the three-masted schooner Sarah Nicoll, owned by Mr. Graham Coulter, commission agent, of 125, Sussex-street. The Sarah Nicoll was bound from Port Macquarie to Sydney, with a cargo of timber, having left the former port, it is supposed, last Tuesday week. Four bodies, supposed to be some of the crew, were found near where the figure-head was picked up, but in consequence of decomposition and mutilation of the bodies, it was impossible to identify them. The Sarah Nicoll was insured in the Victoria Insurance Office for £1200.
