

J. A. M'Kenzie auctions household furniture, farming implements, vehicles and live stock, in the estate of the late Mrs. Farley, at Clareval, to-day.

A motor car passed through Gloucester on Thursday, Mr. Elliott driving. In Church-Street it was a case of "What ho, she bumps!" The party sped along the Manning River road.

Besides being successful in gaining promotion by examination after the recent inspection, Mr. Guido Weber, of Copeland North Public School, received from the Chief Inspector a commendatory letter, stating that "he read with pleasure the report of Mr. Inspector Dennis upon the creditable work that is being done, and the sound training that the pupils are receiving, &c."

We are also pleased to chronicle that Mr. Weber's little daughter Mona, aged two and a half years, who met with a serious accident at Newcastle on the 23rd ult., causing concussion of the brain, is now progressing famously.

Mr. Kohlhoff, who has been laid up for the past two months as the result of a kick, should resume duty at an early date.

Mr. F. Hughes, representing B. Phillips, Record Tailors, of Newcastle, is at Reichert's Hotel with a splendid assortment of seasonable suitings, &c. Mr. Hughes, who is well known