Victorian Shipping

The following listing was extracted by Margaret Bauer and Nancy Campbell from microfilms held at the LDS Family History Centre in Bundaberg, Queensland. In no way, however, does it represent all of the ships which arrived in Victoria between 1837 and 1862.

TIP: To find a name/date use the "Edit/Find in Page" option on your browser.

Arrivals to Port Phillip were included with New South Wales arrivals for many years because Victoria only separated from New South Wales in 1853 when it attained self-government.

TIP: Highlight a line before scrolling across.

Shipping information was obtained from three major source categories:

- [PL] Passenger Lists,
- [AL] Agent's Immigration Lists, (lists of immigrants in private ships),
- [JA] Journal Articles at the Bundaberg LDS Family History Centre in Queensland

They were extracted from microfilm copies of original records held either at the Queensland State Archives in Runcorn, Brisbane, or the Commonwealth Archives, Cannon Hill, Brisbane. An asterisk (*) against a ship's name indicates it is from the latter.

Sets of the films are readily available in libraries and repositories throughout Australia.
